

Answer to question 7:

DP: yes. Um when we first started the investigation was very very much narrower than as it's emerged. And we were pressing the notion of current employees being able to come to us, being able to go... when we started, the drop was 1 January 2006 and nothing that happened before then could we look at, now it's, it's been pushed out now to any activity prior to 2006 falling within the broad scope of the systemic issues. Um and so, we think that we've, rather than being manipulated, have made this a much broader investigation, ah, than was initially proposed.
